

Very Bad Poetry: It is a little known fact that monsters abhor poorly crafted poetry. Especially if the subject is on rainbows, unicorns, puppies, or kittens—pretty much anything cute and cuddly will work. And if it's about love, those monsters will be gone faster than you can say Shakespeare. Feel free to use our example, but we here at the Guide strongly recommend you create your own.

*Works especially well if you are unsure of exact location of monsters and need to clear an entire room.
